

Report on the Second Task

Kyrylo Krocha

December 8, 2024

My attempt of solution of the second task is based on using ORB to find matches between two images. Due to time constraints, the functionality is limited, and the possibilities for improving my solution are almost endless - we can use deep learning techniques (like LoFTR) to improve accuracy, or create a data loader to compare more than just two images at the same time.